SG-003 - Deal Readiness & Negotiation Preparation Guide

Document ID: SG-003

Revision: 1

Effective Date: 1 January 2026

Document Type: Sales Playbook

Authority Class: SALES_ADVISORY

Status: Current

Purpose

Helps sales representatives prepare for customer conversations, proposals, and negotiations by assembling the most decision-relevant information about an active opportunity. The objective is decision readiness, not a generic account summary.

Core Readiness Principle

A deal does not need every possible question resolved before a customer conversation. The representative should know what is confirmed, recommended, unresolved, commercially flexible, approval-dependent, risky, and not yet safe to promise.

Opportunity-Specific Readiness

Readiness is evaluated against the current opportunity and next expected interaction. Account history provides context but does not replace opportunity-specific evidence. Resolve materially ambiguous opportunity references before presenting deal-specific conclusions.

Build the Deal Picture

Combine only the evidence needed from customer context, opportunity context, solution context, commercial context, and operational context.

History Is Context, Not Entitlement

Historical purchases and discounts can inform preparation but do not automatically establish current rights, compatibility, or site conditions.

Solution Position

Understand what is proposed, why it fits, valid alternatives, trade-offs, technical conditions, and unresolved dependencies. Preserve the distinction between a stronger recommendation and technical invalidity.

Commercial Position

Keep three questions separate: is the treatment supported by policy; does the current user have authority; and if not, what approval or exception path applies?

Authority Is Not an Offer

Maximum approval authority is a boundary, not an automatic negotiation target or customer-facing concession.

Negotiation Levers

Where supported, preparation may consider configuration, quantity, deployment phasing, equipment mix, service/ExtendedCare options, installation scope, timing, and technically valid alternatives. Do not invent flexibility.

Meridian Example

With qualifying eligible subtotal Rp489 juta, Daniel as Senior Account Executive, and an active Meridian delegation up to 10% for qualifying transactions, a 10% request may be within Daniel's delegated authority if all conditions remain satisfied. This does not mean he should automatically offer 10%.

DapurKita Example

Total opportunity Rp790 juta does not establish the 10% band. Eligible NORMAL equipment subtotal Rp620 juta falls in the up-to-9% band. Promotional lines are separate; standard Senior Account Executive authority is up to 8% absent applicable delegation. A 15% request is outside the standard program and requires commercial-exception treatment.

Prima Example

The expired 2025 Strategic agreement and historical 10% treatment remain historical context, not current 2026 entitlement. Current policy and authority govern unless a current applicable delegation exists.

Operational Reality

Product availability, incoming inventory, expected arrival, site readiness, installation requirements, and installation scheduling are separate claims. Stock does not equal installation availability; ETA does not equal guaranteed installation.

Bayfront Example

IC-420 incoming in approximately 18 days may arrive before the event, but that does not establish completed installation. IC-500 is currently available but its larger footprint requires site-fit confirmation before it is positioned as a reliable alternative.

Blockers vs Risks

A blocker can prevent the proposed transaction or commitment from proceeding as expected. A risk increases uncertainty or threatens the outcome without currently making the deal impossible. Do not label every open question a blocker.

Do Not Promise

Explicitly surface unapproved discounts, unsupported compatibility, unconfirmed site fit, incoming inventory as guaranteed arrival, stock as guaranteed installation, unresolved ExtendedCare coverage, expired benefits, or deployment dates that still depend on unresolved conditions.

Missing Information

Resolve gaps that affect solution validity, entitlement, authority, concession, deployment feasibility, or customer-facing commitments. Do not delay useful activity merely to achieve perfect data completeness.

No Readiness Score

Do not reduce readiness to an unsupported percentage. Concrete states, risks, gaps, and actions are more meaningful than an arbitrary overall score.

Recommended Output

Deal Snapshot; Solution Position; Commercial Position; Feasibility; Risks and Blockers; material Open Questions; Do Not Promise; and specific Suggested Next Actions. Adapt depth to the opportunity and avoid information dumping.

Next Actions

Actions should state what needs to be established. Examples: confirm Artisan rear clearance and OV-660 batch; obtain the appropriate approval for a policy-supported discount above current authority; confirm Bayfront site dimensions; verify explicit promotion stacking terms.

Boundaries

SALES_ADVISORY guidance can prioritize issues, frame trade-offs, surface risks, and suggest verification. It cannot establish technical compatibility, current business state, inventory truth, commercial eligibility, approval authority, customer entitlement, or installation availability.

Reasoning Pattern

DEAL -> SOLUTION -> COMMERCIAL -> FEASIBILITY -> RISKS -> GAPS -> DO NOT PROMISE -> NEXT ACTION.
